Fine, Biss Host Glenview Farmers Market Booth

Posted by

As part of her efforts to meet the needs of residents in her district, state Rep. Laura Fine (D-Glenview) will be hosting a community resource booth at the Glenview Farmer’s Market located at Wagner Farm at 1510 Wagner Rd., this Saturday, June 22 from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m.

“I believe my most important responsibility as state representative is to be open and accessible,” Fine in a press release. “While I have an open door policy at my office, I understand not everyone will be able to stop by during the week. That is why I am bringing my office to the Glenview Farmer’s Market this Saturday.”

Fine will be joined by state Senator Daniel Biss (D-Evanston) at the booth. Fine and Biss will be present to answer questions about what they have been working on in Springfield.

For more information about Fine's work, please call Rep. Fine’s constituent service office at (847) 998-1717 or by e-mailing RepFine@gmail.com.
